Saturday skeet & trap 11-3 / Sunday skeet & trap 12- 4

- So far this year we have thrown 367,000 targets at skeet and trap. Skeet is slightly ahead with 53 percent of the targets thrown. For information on our skeet program please contact Vice President of Skeet Wayne Porter at kwporter53@att.net
- SPORTING CLAYS WILL BE CLOSED NOVEMBER 11th due to annual S,T&SC meeting at clubhouse.
- So far we have thrown around 80,000 targets at Sporting Clays this year. We are off to a great start thanks to all the volunteer help and support we have received to get it built and in operation. Course is open on Friday 1-5, Saturday 9-5 & Sunday 12-4. For information on our Sporting Clays course please contact Vice President of Sporting Clays Ray Faust at ray@faustengineering.com
- On November 3rd we will have our Fall Junior Wobble Shoot. This is a trap shoot that simulates Olympic Bunker Trap. Carey Garrison from Crossville, Tn. will be at this shoot. She has shot with us several times and this year was on the team representing the United States in South Korea.
- Our third Intra-club S&T shoot this year will be November 17th. This consists of 50 skeet targets or 50 trap targets or both. Cash prizes in three categories. Entry fees are $10.00 each and targets off your target card. This is a breakfast shoot. Registration 9:30 eat at 10:00 shoot at 11:00.

Larry McNamee – President of S,T&SC

ELECTION FOR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The following candidates have announced their candidacy for the At-Large ORSA Board positions. The term of office is two years.

In November, all members will receive a ballot packet in the mail. Ballots are returned by mail in a provided return envelope in which the ballot will be sealed in a smaller envelope that does not contain the name of the voter. Ballots will be opened and counted at the ORSA Annual Dinner on December 5 at the Oak Ridge Elks Club. More information will be provided regarding the dinner in the November issue of the Rangefinder.

CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT

JERRY ZORSCH

Currently I'm President here at ORSA. I'm a retired U.S. Merchant Marine Engineering Officer, (35 yrs.) and a Veteran of Desert Storm. I've been an ORSA Member for 30+ years and a Bond Holder, NRA Life Member, NRA Range Technical Team Advisor, NRA Certified Pistol, Rifle, Metallic Cartridge Reloading and Range Safety Officer Instructor, State of Tennessee Concealed Carry Instructor, USPSA Life Member (L-2218), member of IDPA, SASS Level II Range Officer (Ranger Z), Founding Member of Tennessee Firearms Association (TFA), and a Charter member of JPFO.

Whenever possible I also enjoy shooting Skeet, Trap, CMP and High Power Rifle. If you took advantage of the Concealed Carry Class we offered at ORSA, then we have met. I have volunteered my time to help over 1,000 people get their CCW at ORSA. I have also helped trained nearly 100 NRA certified Range Safety Officers here at ORSA.

I would like to see ORSA continue to grow. We need to develop better relations between ourselves, our neighbors, and the surrounding community. As the City of Oak Ridge continues to grow around us, we need to be ever vigilant in protecting ourselves from anti gun neighbors, politicians, and judges.

I'll work to preserve our club and the 2'nd Amendment, not just for ourselves, but for future generations.

I'm asking you to please vote for me for President of ORSA.

CANDIDATES FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

MIKE MADDEN

I am seeking the position of Vice President on the ORSA Board. I have served as Vice President for the last two years. I started the IDPA club in 2005, I was the Action Pistol Club President from its conception until 2015. If the President is unable to perform in his position I have the experience to fill the position.

I have served on the ORSA board in several different position for the last 12 years. During that time, I have also served on several committees to improve the ORSA experience and the safety of its members.

CANDIDATES FOR SECRETARY

MICHAEL GLASMAN

I am Michael Glasman and would like to once again serve ORSA as Secretary on the Board of Directors. I have been an ORSA member for 16 continuous years, I am a Bondholder, NRA Life Member, and committed competitor in the Highpower Rifle discipline. I hold an NRA Master Highpower Rifle Classification, and I am a Distinguished Rifleman as well. Although I have not tallied up an exact figure, I would say I've shot in over 95% of the High Power Rifle matches at ORSA, and have competed at Camp Perry 16 times. As a committed competitor and member it is my sincere desire to be part of the process to sensibly and carefully deploy our resources to make our club a safe, enjoyable experience for our members and guests across ALL shooting disciplines – especially since we are now seeing a resurgence of interest in the shooting sports, particularly in the action disciplines. I am also immediate Past President of Rifle and Pistol (2012-2017). During my tenure, and most recently, we performed muchneeded refurbishment of the Indoor Range, built the very popular 100-yard Rifle Practice Range and worked diligently to perfect the steel targets. I also managed repairs of the nearly collapsed berm wall at the High Power Range, and we solved the drainage problem behind the targets. Among my first improvements (and needing immediate attention) were range safety enhancements. This included three sets of RANGE COLD lights, and development and posting of 4 sets of range safety rules. I also was responsible for some not-so-visible tasks, such managing the sale of excess club ammo which resulted in nearly $70,000 returned to the treasury, procurement of rifles and equipment for an enhanced rifle clinic experience, and we installed a much-needed storage building at the Competition Range. Buildings and Berms are vital, but so are programs and growth. While President of R&P, I also facilitated starting the American Rimfire Benchrest, and the Air Rifle Benchrest programs, and started our popular Vintage Sniper Matches. In addition, the Smallbore Program was re-established. Absolutely none of these tasks or programs would have been possible without the willingness and collaboration of dozens and dozens of volunteers from nearly all ORSA disciplines who lent their backs and expertise to accomplish the work of coaching new shooters, hauling tons of ammo, digging holes, busting rock, and hammering nails. As you can see, I believe in listening to members, collaboration, and looking for creative and cost-effective solutions to create real and lasting improvements in our club assets, programs, and culture. All this work resulted in a better club – and there are more improvements on the horizon.

In my outside-of-ORSA life, I am a Metallurgical Engineer for the National Nuclear Security Administration, an Extra-Class Amateur Radio Operator, and also serve on the executive board of the Midway Rehabilitation Center in Knoxville. I also like to build furniture and enjoy touring the backroads of this beautiful area on a motorcycle. Kindly consider me for ORSA Secretary – I would be honored and privileged to serve you one and all in all disciplines as ORSA Secretary.

CANDIDATES FOR TREASURER

ERIC FOWLER

As an ORSA member I have participated in a variety of shooting activities since joining the club including IDPA, 3-Gun, and service rifle clinics. I also frequent the bench rest and archery ranges in preparation for hunting seasons each year. I enjoy the use of ORSA's facilities and have given back to the club by serving as the treasurer for the last two years and would like to continue serving as treasurer for another two year term. My qualifications for treasurer include a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting from Lake Superior State University and a Masters of Business Administration from The University of Tennessee - Knoxville. In addition, I have been licensed as a Certified Public Accountant in the State of Tennessee for over 10 years. My accounting career began over twenty years ago in Northern Michigan working as an intern for an automotive component manufacturer. Since then I have held positions in the government, public accounting and the private sector. Much of this time has been spent auditing in the healthcare, government, and non-profit arenas, although I have also spent several years working with manufacturers and service providers. I believe that these experiences qualify me to continue to serve ORSA as treasurer.

CANDIDATES FOR MEMBERSHIP SECRETARY

KEN PALMER

I have been a member of ORSA for 21 years. I am an active member at ORSA. In my time at ORSA I have volunteered my time to rebuild the target carriers for the indoor range. I have also maintained them over the years. I previously held the position of member secretary for 6 years. I would like the opportunity to serve again. My goal as membership secretary is to ensure that new and existing members will not have any problem entering ORSA due to membership badge or gate failure. I live in close proximity to the range and that will help me to be accessible to the membership if an issue arises. I will work tirelessly in this position to ensure membership issues are resolved quickly.

\*John Phillips was listed as a candidate for Membership Secretary in last month's Rangefinder. John has since removed his name as a candidate for this position.***

CANDIDATES FOR ROADS AND GROUND DIRECTOR

KEITH JIMMERSON

I am running for the position of Road and Grounds Director. Having previously served in the position for ten years, I am completely familiar with the responsibilities and requirements of the job.

My educational background includes a B.S. in Technical and Adult Education from the University of Tennessee and an M.S. in Health and Safety from the University of Tennessee where I graduated with honors.

In addition to my educational background, I have the following Certifications and awards: CET in Health and Safety, CET in Emergency Response, and DOE Advanced Instructor.

I look forward to serving ORSA, and I will appreciate your vote.

ALEX MARCHESE

I am an avid ORSA member who is proud to be a part of a unique and strong organization within our community and as such I wanted to find an opportunity to become more involved with in our club. After sitting down and talking with both the current and former roads and grounds directors I realized due to my back ground what a great fit this position would be. A few of my qualifications for Roads and Grounds Director include a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Civil Engineering and current enrolment in a Masters of Business Administration program. I have spent my professional carrier as a Project Manager for general contractors focusing primarily on Healthcare, Government, Higher Education, and nonprofit clients. My most recent projects are the UT basketball locker room renovation (GO VOLS!) and UT Medical Centers NICU Expansion. I also happen to be a competitive rifle, pistol, and shotgun shooter participating in ATA, IPSC, USPSA, 3GUN, and various other competitive organizations.

I believe I can leverage my professional carrier to the benefit of our club. I will tirelessly work to maximize our yearly dues to continue the development, modernization, and expansion of our top tier facilities. Through my professional experience of budgeting managing and directing projects from inception to completion we can insure future projects are timely, successful, and impactful.

As your Roads and Grounds director I will ensure our future growth and development will stay in compliance with all city, county, and state codes to safe guard our facilities future existence and financial well-being. Last and foremost I will mandate and ensure that our ranges and facilities our maintained properly while putting ORSA, and our entire Association, first and foremost at all times. I therefore respectfully request your vote for the Office of Roads and Grounds.

CANDIDATES FOR TRAINING DIRECTOR

JODY ZORSCH

I am the Director of Emergency Management for Morgan County, responsible for disaster planning, disaster response training and hazardous materials response. I have been in the emergency response field since 1986 starting out as a firefighter in the Claxton community of Anderson county. I am on the Emergency Management Association of Tennessee board – having served as East TN Vice-President, President-elect, President and currently serving as treasurer for the last several years.

I am a permanent (bond holding member) and have personally been a member of ORSA for 21 years. Prior to that I enjoyed ORSA as part of my husband's membership since 1985. I am a certified Range Officer, certified NRA instructor - Range Safety Officer, Basic Pistol, Basic Rifle, Basic Metallic Cartridge Reloading and Refuse to be a Victim. I am also a TN Handgun carry permit instructor. I am a life member of the NRA, life member USPSA, member of SASS (Single Action Shootist Society) and TFA (Tennessee Firearms Association). In my time at ORSA I have been active over the years in USPSA, Cowboy Action (SASS) & Skeet.

I have enjoyed serving in the position and getting to meet and interact with the ORSA members and the public who attend our training classes. Over the years the training department has trained well over 1,000 people in the handgun permit classes alone. We have also trained nearly 100 NRA certified Range Safety Officers in the last few years. In addition, we have also been offering CPR and AED training to our members.

I look forward to continuing to serve ORSA.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

"It's clear that the Founding Fathers did not have assault weapons in mind when they wrote the Second Amendment. The machines of war were brought over to the civilian market in the 1980's, alongside high-capacity magazines, and dramatically increase the death toll of mass shootings where used."

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Democrat candidate for NY's 14th Congressional District

"...his judicial opinions indicate he believes the Second Amendment guarantees Americans the right to have access to AR-15 style rifles – the same kinds of guns used to commit mass murders... his disregard for common sense gun safety..."

Senator Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass in an editorial in the Boston Globe criticizing Judge Kavanaugh as he was being considered for the Supreme Court

"Every day, you read a headline about a young man or young woman getting killed, and then you think about our history when John F. Kennedy was assassinated, Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy. ... What did we learn? We turned our back on common-sense gun laws in America."

Richard M. Daley, (D) Mayor of Chicago 1989-2011

"When I grew up, I ... thought the only people who had guns were criminals and the police, and as long as you think like that, that's the only people who are going to have guns. ... but the reality is that if you don't have a firearm to defend yourself, you're not getting a first responder; you're getting a cleanup crew."

Chip Eberhart, former Chicago police officer and master instructor with Top Shot Academy

"...there simply is no untouchable constitutional right to keep loaded handguns in the house in crime-ridden urban areas."

Supreme Court Associate Justice Stephen Breyer dissenting on the DC v. Heller case in June 26, 2008

"The Second amendment has a preamble about the need for a militia. Historically, the new government had no money to pay for an army, so they relied on the state militias. The states required men to have certain weapons and they specified in the law what weapons these people had to keep in their homes so that when they were called upon to service as militiamen, they would have them. That was the entire purpose of the Second Amendment. ... the disappearance of that purpose eliminates the function of the Second Amendment."

Supreme Court Associate Justice Ruth Bader Ginsberg in an interview 4 October 2013

WHAT KAVANAUGH MEANS FOR THE SECOND AMENDMENT FIGHT

Washington, D.C. --(Ammoland.com)- With the contentious confirmation hearings over, it now looks very likely that Brett Kavanaugh will be confirmed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. This will have a major effect on the battle to protect our Second Amendment rights on several fronts. Kavanaugh is best noted for his dissent in the October 2011 ruling in Heller v. District of Columbia. In his dissent from that ruling, Kavanaugh stated that he would have struck down DC's ban on certain semi-automatic rifles.

"Semi-automatic rifles, like semi-automatic handguns, have not traditionally been banned and are in common use by law-abiding citizens for self-defense in the home, hunting, and other lawful uses. Moreover, semi-automatic handguns are used in connection with violent crimes far more than semi-automatic rifles are. It follows from Heller's protection of semi-automatic handguns that semi-automatic rifles are also constitutionally protected and that D.C.'s ban on them is unconstitutional," he wrote.

The FBI's crime statistics show that Kavanaugh accurately stated the obvious about the rarity of any rifle, much less the dreaded AR-15, being misused in a crime. But under other standards, these rifles are in common use – at least five million were in private hands as of 2016, according to CNBC.

In and of itself, this makes it very likely that we could see semi-auto bans like those in New Jersey and California struck down should the proper case come up. But the effects don't just stop there. The fact is, once you have stronger statements from the Supreme Court on the Second Amendment, some efforts by Michael Bloomberg and others who seek to take away our rights become harder.

A repeat of Operation Choke Point will be far more risky in the sense that this time, it will be targeting a constitutional right. So will Andrew Cuomo's shenanigans with bank regulations, for the same reason. Yes, loyal Ammoland readers know that the Second Amendment is a right, but some firm declarations by the Supreme Court – beyond the Heller and McDonald decisions – would help matters a great deal on that front.

The court rulings would also have an effect on the push for corporate gun control that is now a major concern. Put it this way, would Bank of America really close accounts of licensed dealers who sell AR-15s if the Supreme Court ruled that ownership was constitutionally protected? Would Citigroup seek to end lending to firearms manufacturers who make modern sporting rifles in those cases as well? We can't be 100 percent sure the answer would be no, but the Supreme Court ruling would not hurt the cause of Second Amendment advocates in this fight.

CORPORATE GUN CONTROL MIGHT BE THE WORST THREAT TO GUN RIGHTS

By DAVID FRENCH August 21, 2018 2:49 PM

Let's be honest. If you own guns or you're a gun-rights supporter, and if you're concerned about government restrictions on your Second Amendment rights, the future looks bright. The elevation of Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court may well represent the death knell for draconian forms of gun control – including bans on so-called "assault weapons" and bans on standard-capacity magazines in semi-automatic pistols and rifles.

Moreover, meaningful federal gun control has been blocked for a generation, and red-state legislatures are moving almost uniformly to liberalize state gun laws. Witness, for example, the steady spread of "constitutional carry" in red states across the land.

But another threat looms, one that can stretch across the entire American landscape, is immune to the filibuster, and is largely sheltered from judicial review. It's a threat that can choke off financing for the gun industry, stifle speech about guns, and lock the gun-rights community into offline (and small online) ghettos that restrict their ability to communicate.

So, what's happening? Titans of American banking and communication are taking steps to restrict the use of their funds or platforms by gun makers, gun-rights advocates, and others. The threat is just now emerging, but it may be as great a danger to gun rights as it is to the culture of free speech in this nation, and indeed the two are linked.

A short, non-exclusive survey should help paint the picture. Citigroup struck one of the first blows, taking action in March:

Citigroup is setting restrictions on the sale of firearms by its business customers, making it the first Wall Street bank to take a stance in the divisive nationwide gun control debate.

The new policy, announced Thursday, prohibits the sale of firearms to customers who have not passed a background check or who are younger than 21. It also bars the sale of bump stocks and high-capacity magazines. It would apply to clients who offer credit cards backed by Citigroup or borrow money, use banking services or raise capital through the company.

Not to be outdone, Bank of America has acted against assault weapons. Here's the beginning of a New York Times story from April:

Bank of America will stop lending money to gun manufacturers that make military-inspired firearms for civilian use, such as the AR-15-style rifles that have been used in multiple mass shootings, a company executive said Tuesday.

While the banks' actions apply to the manufacture and sale of firearms, there are considerable unfolding online threats to speech about guns. Consider the actions of these titans of tech: Facebook has recently restricted any links to a website called codeisfreespeech.com, which contains downloadable plans for a number of entirely legal firearms, including the 3D-printable firearms at the heart of the lingering Obama-era case against Cody Wilson. The site includes plans for weapons such as the Colt 1911, a weapon so common and so basic that its plans date back to, well, 1911 (actually before). You can even buy the plans on a t-shirt.

YouTube has its own restrictions on speech about firearms and prohibits any content that "intends to sell" firearms or provides instructions on "manufacturing a firearm." The latter prohibition is broad enough to (if YouTube wishes) include information on assembling a firearm from its component parts — a necessary part of firearm cleaning and maintenance.

Reddit has banned certain gun forums and updated its policies to forbid using Reddit to "solicit or facilitate" (extremely broad terms) transactions or gifts involving firearms. Its policy applies to gun sales, drug sales, prostitution, stolen goods, personal information, and counterfeit official documents. One of those things is not like the other. The keeping and bearing of firearms is an explicit, enumerated constitutional right. The rest of the list largely deals with criminal activity.

The list just keeps going. Amazon Web Services has reportedly removed codeisfreespeech.com from its web servers, and Shopify just updated its free-speech policies to deny space for "the kind of products intended to harm." It also placed on its "restricted items list" all semi-automatic weapons packaged with detachable magazines "capable of accepting more than 10 rounds." It also reportedly deleted the accounts of a number of weapons retailers, including Spike's Tactical and Franklin Armory.

Let's keep in mind that these actions represent not the culmination of a gun-control campaign but the front edge of a wave of corporate censorship and suppression. As I've written before, in an age of online outrage, you can find angry mobs on both sides of virtually any issue, so in almost every case it's the internal mob that matters. Tech executives at giant multinational companies care more about the opinions of their peers and colleagues than they care about any given Twitter trend or news cycle. When companies reach a certain size, the ability of angry conservatives to affect the market is limited. After all, Facebook's main competitor is arguably Instagram, and Facebook owns Instagram.

Earlier today I spoke at length to the Washington Free Beacon's Stephen Gutowski, perhaps the Internet's best one-stop journalistic shop not just for technical expertise on firearms but also for national trends in gun control. He's been diligently covering the recent trend of increasing corporate restrictions. He noted that the corporate actions have been "more aggressive than what we've seen with Alex Jones," with a fraction of the attention.

Simply put, that has to change. Few American communities (including the pro-life community) are better organized and more mobilizable than the gun-rights community, and it's time to shine at least as bright a spotlight on corporate gun control as the one that illuminates governmental gun restrictions, the more traditional focus of the NRA. But not even the mighty NRA can generally force corporations to change course in the absence of government intervention. Corporations are entities that possess their own constitutional rights. Yet the NRA can seek to inform and persuade. Gun-rights proponents can invest in alternative platforms. Young conservatives can and should seek career paths in tech and other key industries to break up the monoculture.

In other words, while doing our best to make arguments in the here and now, it's imperative for gun-rights proponents to play the corporate long game, just as they did in their remarkably successful 30-year campaign to liberalize gun laws. The ability to preserve a functioning gun industry and the free flow of information about firearms may well depend on it.

Corporations have entered the fight, and gun-rights supporters are mainly on the outside, looking in.

THE RANGEFINDER is published monthly by the Oak Ridge Sportsmen's Assoc. (ORSA) and is mailed to all current members. ORSA is an organization of shooters, hunters, archers, fishermen and others dedicated to outdoor sports and conservation. A limited number of complimentary paper copies are available to interested parties and businesses on a first-come, first-serve basis. An electronic version of this newsletter is posting in the news area of the ORSA website.

Send email correspondence (but NOT address changes) regarding this publication to:
orsasec@gmail.com with a Subject Line: ORSA Rangefinder

If you wish to submit an article for publication, you must first submit it to the ORSA Secretary via email. The article will then be distributed via email to the ORSA board for approval. When the board approves the article, the author will be notified.
