NEWS FROM SKEET, TRAP & SPORTING CLAYS

Spring has sprung and all forms of shooting is picking up at ORSA. By the time this reaches you we should have the remodeling of the Sporting Clays Clubhouse completed. Many thanks to our members who did the Plumbing, Painting and Electrical work. As I remind you from time to time, we are an all-volunteer club. Don't hesitate to get involved with whatever time you can spare. You will be working with some of the nicest people you ever met.

Kenny Andrews has agreed to finish out Bryan Kennedy's term as Vice President of Skeet. Demands on Bryan's time from running his business made this change necessary. Bryan was instrumental in helping get Sporting Clays up and running and has done a great job as Skeet VP. Bryan was responsible for the RSO signup program and several other improvements that have been made to STSC.

The Metal of Honors convention will be in Knoxville again this year. We have invited them to join us at ORSA September the 10th for an opportunity to do whatever kind of shooting they choose. Looking forward to an opportunity to honor these veterans who have given so much for us to have the life we enjoy.

Pull For Our Veterans skeet, trap & sporting clays events will be held September 24th and 25th. This is the 11th year we have had this event at ORSA. Please put these events on your calendar. We will need lots of volunteers. If you are available to help with either or both, please contact Don Conover at 732-586-4073 or email him at pat-tikdc@gmail.com.

ARCHERY CHANGES VOL. 2

For the last two or three years I have talked to people, wrote articles in the Range Finder, put up signs, and went over range use and misuse of broadheads. Apparently there are still people that disregard or choose to ignore. In last month's Range Finder, I went over some major changes in the Archery Range usages. This article is to further clarify the changes being made, effective May 31, 2022, we will no longer allow crossbows and broadheads to be used on the current block range. It has always been against the rules to shoot 3D targets with either one, but the condition of targets shows that broadheads are being used on both 3D and block targets. Their continual use on the block targets destroys the block.

A new range will be constructed behind the Indoor Range. Until this range is completed, the use of all crossbows, broadheads, and practice type arrows which are expandable will be suspended. We will build a new range behind the Ed Johnson Indoor Range building. New signs will be installed when the range set-up is completed. We will set two of the large rubber blocks with the store type blocks for broadhead use on this new range. The large blocks will only be used to stop misses.

Under no circumstances are they to be used as a primary target. We will purchase the block style targets for use this year. If they are shot up quickly, this year will be the last year that the ORSA will provide broadhead targets.

When parking at the Indoor Range, please park to the right of the entrance to the Indoor Range. Leave the parking lot for Indoor Range usage.

Signs will be placed on the back side of the Indoor Range building warning that the new Archery Range could be active.

SAFETY IS ALWAYS THE FIRST CONCERN!

We will install new cameras to help control activity on all Archery Ranges. All individuals utilizing the Archery Range are forewarned that violators of the rules will be brought before the ORSA Board for possible penalties up to and including loss of club membership.

The same Archery Range rules will apply on the new range. Please be aware if you are shooting on the new Broadhead Archery Range that people could step out on either side of the Indoor Range building. Warning signs will be placed on both sides of the Indoor Range building to prevent people from stepping behind the building but Archery shooters must be vigilant.

SAFETY IS ALWAYS THE FIRST CONCERN!

When the new BroadHead Range is open signs will be posted announcing its opening. The use of Crossbows and BroadHead arrows on the Archery Range will cease on May 31, 2022, until this new range is open. This action is necessary to prevent repeated target damage to ever more expensive targets that are paid for by all ORSA members.

From time to time, the RKBA column will be included in the printed version which is mailed to members' homes when space permits.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

"Today, the United States Department of Justice is making it illegal for a business to manufacture one of these kits without a serial number..." We need Congress to pass universal background checks. Universal background checks. And I know it's controversial, but I got it done once: Ban assault weapons and high-capacity magazines." ...Eliminate gun manufacturers' immunity from liability. They're the only outfit — they're the only outfit in the country that is immune." He continued, "Imagine had the tobacco industry been immune to prostitute (sic) being sued, come on." Joe Biden in his announcement that he is taking executive action to ban "ghost" guns, 12 April 2022.

"No amendment to the Constitution is absolute." Joe Biden in 2021 while signing six executive orders pertaining to gun control

"Freedom is a fragile thing and is never more than one generation away from extinction. It is not our by inheritance: it must be fought for and defended by each generation." President Ronald Reagan

Well I'm neither a lawyer nor a constitutional scholar, but I do understand the English language and have a ton of common sense. Joe Biden is a lawyer, well at least he got a law degree, and he stated that he "supports the Second Amendment." But how could he support the Second Amendment when he says things like the above quotes? The last four words of the Second Amendment are "shall not be infringed." All of what Biden has proposed is an infringement of the Second Amendment right.

He and his rogue ATF are changing the definition of what is a gun, which is defined in federal law. So he is trying to changing federal law by executive fiat. Both unconstitutional and illegal. The term "ghost gun" is in the same class as "assault rifle." These are terms designed to strike fear in the ignorant citizenry. Both are myths perpetrated by the gun control crowd. Americans have been building guns from the time before the Constitution. There is NO mention of serial numbers in the Second Amendment.

So who is the target of these executive actions? Biden stated that more and more "ghost guns" are involved in criminal activity and are involved in the current rise in murder rates. This is a bold faced lie. Criminals don't spend the time to build a gun, they get them illegally. It is gun enthusiasts that build home-made guns, just like their ancestors going back to before the founding of this country. So Biden is trying to make more law and regulations that target law-abiding citizens while doing nothing to address the real criminals that are using guns in their acts of crime.

The Second Amendment is the backstop against government overreach against all the other rights guaranteed in the Constitution. Elimination of the Second Amendment is the holy grail of the global one-government elitists and leftists. The American Constitution, and especially the Second Amendment, is the lone barrier against totalitarianism. Thank God that we all live in the free state of Tennessee that is a barrier against the overreach of the federal government.

THE DECONSTRUCTION AND REPEAL OF THE SECOND AMENDMENT (IN PART)

There is a growing chorus of leftist calls to amend the 2A until they can rally enough populist support to fully repeal it.

"I ask, Who are the militia? They consist now of the whole people..." —George Mason (1788)

"A well regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed." —Article Two, Bill of Rights

Article Two (the Second Amendment) was written as a prescription against government intrusion upon and usurpation of the Natural Rights of Man, because "the right of the people to keep and bear Arms" is the most formidable line of defense against government intrusion on those rights.

Indeed, this inherent right is the first civil right — the fundamental guarantor of all others — as affirmed by our Founders.

In fact, the first shots of the eight-year struggle for American independence, fired at Lexington and Concord, were in response to the British government's attempt to disarm "the People."

It was understood then, as now, that the inherent right to self-defense was irrevocable — and not to be infringed. It was and remains the most fundamental of the unalienable Rights of Man — the rights of all people.

Given the preeminent status of the Second Amendment and the growing chorus of leftists calling to amend it until they can rally enough populist support to fully repeal it, we should be clear that our Founders never intended for this right to be infringed. And we should be equally clear about what our Founders intended to convey with each clause: “A well regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State,” and “the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed.”

George Mason, whose Virginia Bill of Rights was the inspiration for our Constitution’s Bill of Rights, noted in the ratification debates, “I ask, Who are the militia? They consist now of the whole people...” He noted as well that to disarm the people “was the best and most effectual way to enslave them.”

Virginia statesman Richard Henry Lee wrote, “To preserve Liberty, it is essential that the whole body of the people always possess arms, and be taught alike, especially when young, how to use them.”

Likewise during the ratification debates, Patrick Henry declared: “The great object is that every man be armed. Everyone who is able may have a gun. ... Are we at last brought to such humiliating and debasing degradation, that we cannot be trusted with arms for our defense?”

Our Founders agreed and articulated repeatedly that the inherent “right of the people to keep and bear Arms” was the most dependable assurance of preserving Liberty.

“If the representatives of the people betray their constituents,” Alexander Hamilton observed, “there is then no recourse left but in the exertion of that original right of self-defense which is paramount to all positive forms of government.” He added, “Little more can reasonably be aimed at, with respect to the people at large, than to have them properly armed and equipped.”

Historically, there have been no successful attempts to modify the Second Amendment’s assurance of the innate rights of the people to defend their Liberty, but there are now threats to do so. That is precisely why in the debates over ratification of the Bill of Rights, as previously noted, many of our Founders expressed concern that the enumeration of such rights might imply to future generations that they were subject to amendment.

That notwithstanding, Second Amendment rights have most certainly been subject to much alteration by judicial misinterpretation and outright activism.

Given the Supreme Court’s rejection of the Democrat Party

leadership’s effort to redefine “militia” as something other than “the People,” there is now a new rationale for repealing the Second Amendment.

That argument is this: At the time the Second Amendment was ratified, the most sophisticated weapon was a flintlock — a far less deadly weapon than the “black assault rifles” used in the extremely rare but high-profile mass murders today, which Democrats exploit as political fodder in order to stir up their anti-2A constituents advocating repeal.

In my recent media forum debate with a wealthy suburban leftist after one such attack, he insisted, “If not repeal, I think the best solution would be to amend the Second Amendment so that the arms mentioned are limited to those from when the amendment was written. Then anyone who wanted could have a musket or a flintlock —

I responded, “Using your ‘logic,’ the First Amendment’s freedom of speech affirmation would apply to the town crier, and freedom of the press would apply to tabloid sheets printed by hand one at a time. And I might add, this debate would have to take place by letters written with a quill pen and delivered on horseback.”

As I anticipated, no response...

Finally, let’s review some pertinent data related to what the democrats call the “gun problem” in America.

- If you’re not a career criminal, or affiliated with gangs or drugs, your chances of being a victim of violent crime drop dramatically. In fact, it can be argued that your risk of being a victim of violent crime drops below European Union rates.
- If you’re not involved in criminal activity, your statistical probability of being killed by a drunk driver is much higher than being murdered. (Oddly, no one is organizing marches to ban alcohol or automobiles.)
- Despite all the “assault weapon” hysterics, according to the FBI’s latest annual crime statistics, rifles were used in 374 homicides, while knives were used in 1,604 homicides. But the rare high-profile attack at a school by a sociopath with a gun is a much more politically attractive anti-2A rallying point than gang-bangers murdering other gang-bangers in our inner cities.
- In their zeal for deconstruction and repeal of the Second Amendment, Democrat Party leftists don’t want to discuss is that the deadliest ground in America are inner cities — those urban poverty centers which are Democrat-controlled strongholds, and have been for generations. The vast majority of those murders are black-on-black or black-on-hispanic. According to the latest FBI statistics, there are 46 people murdered in the U.S. every day – though it is notable that since Trump’s election, the murder rate is declining.

- Violence is a cultural problem. “Gun control” is not the solution for ending systemic violence, but it most assuredly advances the Left’s insatiable quest for power and control. In fact, many urban Democrats have become gun owners, and an NBC News/Wall Street Journal survey found that Americans have an increasingly favorable view toward legal firearms for self-defense.

Until Democrats join Republicans in a unified effort to reverse the policies that have devastated our families and communities, violence will continue to rule the day. Violence in America is the direct result of failed statist policies, the effluent of their so-called centralized social programs, which have enslaved generations of poor Americans on urban poverty plantations in every major city nationwide.

Fact is, Democrats don’t care about children unless they can use their caskets as political props. If they did care about children, they wouldn’t promote the culture of death that each day kills 2,446 of the most vulnerable among us before birth.

When debating the Second Amendment, there are three points that are often neglected.

First, possession of firearms is a deterrent against countless millions of crimes, as made clear in studies of convicted felons, who tell researchers that they choose victims who are least likely to be able to defend themselves.

Second, there are more than a million crimes thwarted every year by those who defend themselves with a firearm.

And finally, the Second Amendment is, first and foremost, about protection of our Constitution and the Liberty it enshrines. As I have oft noted, handguns are for personal and home defense. But semi-automatic rifles, mislabeled by Democrats and their Leftmedia propagandists as “assault rifles,” are for protection of those who would infringe on the “right of the people to keep and bear arms.” If you find that notion unsettling, then you need to learn more about the history the constant assault of statist tyranny on Liberty.

And for the record, despite claims to the contrary, banning the sale of those guns has had dubious results in terms of reducing the rare but sensational use of such firearms by mass murderers.

Bottom Line: Statists in the executive, legislative and judicial branches, who favor a centralized socialist government, endeavor wherever possible to enfeeble and erode the Second Amendment. For in doing so, they move ever closer to their ultimate objective (and that of their uninformed constituents) – disarming the American people and demoting our constitutional standing as “citizens” to our ancestors’ standing as “subjects.”

“The ultimate authority ... resides in the people alone. [T]he advantage of being armed, which the Americans possess over the people of almost every other nation ... forms a barrier against the enterprises of ambition, more insurmountable than any...” – James Madison (1788)

TN LEGISLATURE AND THE SECOND AMENDMENT

From: joe.mccaul@gmail.com

Subject: HB2524 "Second Amendment Simplification Act"

As both an ORSA and IDPA member, I wanted to be sure that you knew that Rep Jerry Sexton has introduced

HB2524 "Second Amendment Simplification Act" to effectively repeal the onerous "Intent to Go Armed Law". I have posted the following on Tellico Village's Next Door within the Conservative Club and Firearm Enthusiasts groups:

INTENT TO GO ARMED TN 39-17-1307 states "(a) (1) A person commits an offense who carries, with the intent to go armed, a firearm or a club." Exceptions are stated in other sections. This law creates probable cause for LEOs to stop anyone they believe is carrying (open or concealed). HB2524 "Second Amendment Simplification Act" would eliminate that language entirely thereby removing probable cause. It goes to the Criminal Justice Committee on 3/16. Our Rep Lowell Russell sits on that committee. Please call him and express your strong support for this bill. Contact info: (615) 741-3736 rep.lowell.russell@capitol.tn.gov <https://www.capitol.tn.gov/Bills/112/Bill/HB2524.pdf>

The companion bill is SB2866 which has been referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee is Mike Bell. He lives nearby in Riceville and is an avid sportsman and NRA member. His contact information is: (615) 741-1946 sen.mike.bell@capitol.tn.gov

I would suggest that ORSA members be notified and asked to contact both Rep Russell and Sen. Bell at a minimum. It would also be great if the effort to contact committee members could be picked up by other organizations with whom you may have contact. Phone calls seem to be the most effective means of communication. Joe McCaul
