2022 ORSA-NSCA SPORTING CLAYS CAMP

The Oak Ridge Sportsmen's Association in partnership with the National Sporting Clays Association, conducted its 4th annual 2-day Youth Sporting Clays Camp, June 14-15 at the ORSA Sporting Clays facility, in Oak Ridge TN.

Twenty youth athletes aged 8-17 participated in the camp. Four certified NSCA instructors from ORSA, instructed these youth athletes on proper stance, gun mount and advanced techniques to help them become better Sporting Clays shooters.

Lead instructor Steve Richardson said "The youth camp is a great opportunity for the shooters to enjoy practice with similar age/skilled shooters, get some coaching to improve and reinforce their safety practices. "

A gun fit and eye dominance test were done before the camp began to ensure the athletes had the proper gun fit, to make them more successful in Sporting Clays.

Safety always being the first priority of the camp, there were range safety officers assigned on the course, to provide a safe and fun environment. Safety briefings were held each morning before they headed to the course.

The two-day clinic consisted of various shooting set-up to ensure that the athletes were given the opportunity to shoot station they might encounter at a Sporting Clays events. With the last part of the second day giving the athletes the chance to shoot the entire Sporting Clays course.

The athletes had plenty of practice, with ORSA throwing over 7,000 White Flyer targets from our MEC sporting clays machines during the camp.

Thanks to our many ORSA members who helped with the camp, providing food, water and filling up the machines. Without these volunteers we could not put on our camp.

The 2023 ORSA-NSCA Sporting Clays Youth Camp is in planning and the date will be announced this winter.

THE RIGHT TO KEEP AND BEAR ARMS

The Right to Keep and Bear Arms (RKBA) column is now available each month on the ORSAONLINE web site at (www.orsaonline.org/rkba.asp). From time to time, the RKBA column will be included in the printed version which is mailed to members' homes when space permits.

Please remember that each edition of the Rangefinder is also available online at ORSAONLINE (www.orsaonline.org/newsletters.asp) and is normally available before the edition arrives by mail.

NYSRPA V. BRUEN

The Supreme Court in this landmark case AFFIRMED the Second Amendment right of free Americans to “bear arms” in self-defense outside the home for the first time. The 2009 Heller decision only dealt with the right to “keep” arms. Thus the Supreme Court struck down “may issue” laws around the country that gave anti-gun bureaucrats and law enforcement officials the power to decide whether or not you are “allowed” to carry a firearms for self-defense.

After the Court’s decision Joe Biden issued a statement saying he was “deeply disappointed” and stated “the Second Amendment is not absolute.”

Democrat star CA Gov. Gavin Newsom said “This is a dangerous decision from a court hell bent on pushing a radical ideological agenda.”

NY Gov. Kathy Hochul just simply said that NY was going to ignore the decision.

Nonetheless, the 6-3 decision by the Supreme Court was a huge victory for those of us who believe in the words of the Second Amendment that say “...shall not be infringed.”

ARE YOU A MILITIA VIOLENT EXTREMIST?

Due to someone who leaked an FBI alert we know what the FBI thinks of you. The alert was distributed to all ATF field offices and listed a lot of clues to who are Militia Violent Extremists (MVE’s). Cited in the FBI alert were people who display the “Gadsden Flag” better known as the “Don’t Tread on Me” flag. Beside other flags I’m not familiar with, the FBI cited the “Betsy Ross” flag as another indicator of MVE. Additionally, the FBI alert said that those who advocate for the Second Amendment and cite the Second Amendment in whole or in part are MVE. So are you an MVE?

This is the same FBI that raided, sometimes with SWAT, over 800 citizens who dared to attend the rally on Jan 6th; and most of them are still in jail.

This is the same FBI that the U.S. Attorney General sicced on parents who spoke out at School Board Meetings and treated them as domestic terrorists under the Patriot Act.

This is the same FBI where another leaker has said that his agency has been told to look for cases where they can reclassify them as domestic terrorism.

This is the same FBI that violated 246 years of precedence and raided the personal residence of a former U.S. President.

Now we have a bill passed in the U.S. Senate where the IRS budget is increased by $80 billion and specifically directs the hiring of 87,000 new IRS agents. Here is a tweet from Sen. Marsha Blackburn:

@MarshaBlackburn

The Democrats just voted to make the IRS larger than the Pentagon, State Department, FBI, and Border Patrol combined.

Who is the IRS looking for? Here is a tweet by Ford Fischer

@FordFischer

The IRS is hiring new special agents!

Requirements include working min “50 hours per week, which may include irregular hours, and be on-call 24/7, including holidays and weekends” and “Carry a firearm and be willing to use deadly force, if necessary.”

“Be willing and able to participate in arrests, execute search warrants, and other dangerous assignments”

<https://jobs.irs.gov/resources/job->

In the Epoch Times on 5 August there was an article that said: The IRS has stockpiled five million rounds of ammunition and spent $725,000 on bullets this year, according to Florida Congressman Matt Gaetz.

Eighty seven thousand new IRS agents and 5 million rounds of ammunition – what could possibly go wrong? And the IRS can seize your bank account.

So what’s the point in me citing the above? I can connect the dots and hope you can too. The last bastion of freedom and liberty in the USA is the Second Amendment.

2 COUNTRIES IN AMERICA:

THOSE WHO CHERISH THE RKBA & THOSE WHO DON’T

Ammoland Inc. Posted on June 17, 2022 by Roger Katz

“It is time for us to think outside the box and form two countries. Instead of civil war I propose civil separation. We are two countries, so ideologically opposed that each feels victimized and dominated by the other. Political leaders need to step up and brainstorm next steps. Clearly lay out the two ideologies and give each state a vote as to where they belong.” ~“Opinion Letter” from reader of The New York Times posted on June 5, 2022, responding to May 27, 2022 “America May Be Broken Beyond Repair,” by the Political Progressive Columnist for the Times, Michelle Goldberg. The letter writer, Dawn Menken, a Psychologist, from Portland, Oregon, is the author of “Facilitating a More Perfect Union: A Guide for Politicians and Leaders,” published in 2021*

(*Menken’s book purports to be a guide for political leaders on how to bring the Country together to resolve the Nation’s differences. Yet, one year after the publication of her book, it is clear from her NYTimes letter, that Menken has had a change of heart; surrendered to the truth that reconciliation is impossible. That should have been obvious to her all along. It wasn’t.)

If the American public didn’t know the truth before, it knows it now: the battle for the very Soul of the Country is on the line, and Ground Zero of that battle isn’t Uvalde, Texas. It’s New York City, New York, with the Bruen case shortly coming down the pike.

The Nation is indeed “two Countries,”—no less so now than at the time of the American Civil War: friend against friend, brother against brother, uncle against cousin, father against son. But what is different today is that ideologies cut across and into the very notion of what it means to be an American. There are those who hold to the meaning and purport of our Nation as set forth in our Constitution and especially in the Nation’s Bill of Rights. And there are those who wish to jettison all of it in the erroneous belief that our Nation is at its core, immoral, even evil. They wish to destroy the very fabric of a free Constitutional Republic.

But the salient difference between these two Countries rests on this:

THOSE AMERICANS WHO EMBRACE AND CHERISH THEIR FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT TO KEEP AND BEAR ARMS, AND OTHERS WHO DO NOT.

Those who embrace and cherish their fundamental right to keep and bear arms also recognize and embrace their sovereignty over Government. They understand that government exists to serve the interests of the people. They recognize that Government is the servant and the American people are the sole master.

Unfortunately, many Americans are of a different mindset. Such Americans have bought into the psychological conditioning programmed into them that guns are awful and gun owners are to be despised. Such Americans care not that Government is their servant, not their master. They recognize not and care not that by ceding their God-Given right to keep and bear arms, they have laid the foundation for their own demise: loss of Selfhood, loss of Dignity, loss of Self-Reliance, loss of mastery over their own destiny.

But what does the Government Tyrant do about the population of gun owners? That places the Tyrant in a quandary. The Tyrant cannot gain control over those who have the will and means to effectively resist the insinuation of tyranny over them. And, while two-thirds of the population has apparently capitulated, that still leaves a goodly third of Americans who have not and will not capitulate. One hundred million people is a lot of people by any reckoning.

What, then, does a Tyrannical Government do?

How does the Tyrant go about separating an estimated 400 million firearms (according to American Gun Facts) in the hands of roughly one-third of the population?

According to a November 2020 Gallop Poll, thirty-two percent of Americans possess firearms. See also a report of the Rand Corporation, a 2017 report of the Pew Research Center, titled, "the Demographics of gun ownership," and an SSRN 2021 "National Firearms Survey."

The American public is routinely bombarded with viral memes. Injected with and subjected to verbal and visual memes on a daily basis, many Americans develop a phobic reaction toward guns and toward those who possess them: word phrases such as "Gun Violence," "Gun Culture," "Mass Shootings," "Assault Weapons," "AR-15 Rifles," "Weapons of War," "Large Capacity Magazines," and other such nomenclature, when coupled with images of violence, operate as visual and auditory cues, that induce a neurotic reaction in the target population. This is to be expected; in fact, this is intended. The goal is to create in the mind of the target audience a feeling of physical revulsion and repulsion toward guns.

But is it really a concern over the safety of innocent people that motivates a vigorous response against firearms and firearms ownership, misguided though that be, or is there something more sinister at play? If it were the former, one would expect a harsh response toward the massive wave of everyday criminal violence infecting and infesting our Country, especially in the major urban areas. But we see no such response.

Those State and municipal Government officials and legislators, who rabidly attack guns in the hands of average, rational, responsible, individuals, handle rampant violent and vicious crime infecting their locales with diffidence and an air of casual indifference.

So, it cannot be violent crime generally or violent gun crime committed by drug-crazed lunatics, psychopathic and psychotic gangbangers, and garden-variety criminals, particularly, that motivate these officials.

What might it be, then? Why would Globalist Government officials, along with their compatriots in the Press, go off half-cocked whenever a rare occurrence, invariably avoidable, of "mass violence" arises, occasioned by the actions of a solitary lunatic?

Why would Government officials and legislators shriek for more nonsensical gun laws, targeting tens of millions of average Americans, predicating the need for all of it on the lowest common denominator among us: the lone wolf psychotic.

The answer is plain. The actions of that lone wolf psychotic merely provide a convenient pretext. It isn't the criminal actions of the lone wolf killer that Government is concerned about. For he doesn't pose a viable threat to Government. Rather, it is the armed citizenry that poses a threat to a Tyrannical Government and poses a threat by virtue of the mere fact of being armed.

But why should Government fear its own armed citizenry? It shouldn't and wouldn't unless Government seeks to usurp the sovereignty of the citizenry, as it clearly aims to do here.

A perspicacious Tyrant would know it is a Tyrant. But this Federal Government doesn't know it.

The Federal Government has amassed power and authority that doesn't belong to it; power and authority that never did belong to it, believing, wrongly, that the power it has usurped from the people is rightfully its own.

And the Government has become jealous in guarding this power, hoarding it.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS COME TO PERCEIVE THE ARMED CITIZENRY AS A POTENTIAL RIVAL THAT MUST BE CRUSHED, AND NOT AS A MASTER TO WHOM IT MUST SERVE. AND WE, GUN OWNERS, FOR OUR PART, WOULD DO WELL TO VIEW THIS PRESENT GOVERNMENT AS A RIVAL TO OUR RIGHTFUL CLAIM OF SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

Our claim of sole sovereignty over Government is grounded on the Constitution, and on fundamental, unalienable, immutable, eternal God-given natural law Rights. And, what, then, does the Federal Government presume to claim its sovereignty over us on? What can it presume to claim sovereignty over the American people on? Nothing but a set of limited, contingent, demarcated powers and authority handed through us to it, conditioned on the fact that Government exists to serve our interests, not its own.

Whose claim of sovereignty is superior? And, if one falls back on the aphorism, "might makes right," well, then, the Government is not alone as the bearer of arms.

There are two antithetical ideologies at play. One ideology is grounded on the principles, precepts, and tenets laid down in our Nation's sacred documents. The other intends to cast it out.

One ideology was forged in the Nation's struggle for independence from tyranny. The proponents of that ideology seek to preserve the Natural Law Rights and Liberties of the people. They intend to maintain and preserve the success of the American Revolution.

The other ideology, grounded on the principles, tenets, and precepts of Collectivism, much in evidence today, seeks to upend the hard-fought battle for Independence from tyranny. For Collectivism is predicated on Tyranny. It is inextricably tied to it. On our website, we discussed all of this in several articles some time ago. See, e.g., our article posted four years ago, in 2018, titled: "The Modern American Civil War: A Clash of Ideologies."
